ITALIANS ADVANCE IN NORTH

Asmara, To-day.

A message from Holme states that Ras Kassa, the second warrior in Ethiopia, is fleeing to the south-west with a small band after the biggest reverse of his career. His army of 40,000 has been split up and is fleeing in all directions.

After withdrawal from Amba Uork on February 28 Ras Kassa returned to attack yesterday. Heavy fighting followed but finally the Abyssinians found themselves caught between two Italian columns and were routed as they vainly attempted to fight their way towards the Narrieu Pass. It is believed that Ras Kassa's defeat will have deep consequences on internal conditions in Abyssinia, as he not only enjoys personal possessions comparable with those of the Emperor but a prestige unequalled by any other statesman.

Pretty Chinese Dresses

CONSTITUTE A PROBLEM

It is true that most Chinese dresses are equally suitable for wear from morning until nightfor daytime or for evening. For special parties and balls however, one often feels the need of gowns suitable for evening wear only, and these constitute a separate problem . .

As most women use only the richest materials in their gowns. there can be little differentiation between a day dress and a gown for a formal party. Although the lighter colours are usually kept for evening wear in the winter, even this rule is not rigid.

A problem in clothes always interests any woman, and the question of these gowns has been adequately solved. All very formal gowns are marked by their. shimmer or gleam. Others may be suitable, but those with brightness in them unmistakably are for evening. The glitten may be in the material itself, or in the bindings and buttons.

CLUB'S STRONGEST BACK DIVISION

THE TURNING POINT IN INTERNATIONAL TIE

GRIEVE DEFINITE ACQUISITION

(By "Referee")

LTHOUGH Ireland lost the local Rugby International Tournament after a substantial first half lead, Scotland are to be congratulated on their brilliant revival, thanks to W. E. Grieve, the former Shanghai centre-threequarter, who must have given the Colony Selectors an "eyeful."

Not since Geof Lammert was in his prime have I seen such a thrustful threequarter as Grieve. His openings on Saturday were spectacular and he caught the opposition on the wrong foot time and again. His swerve at top speed has to be seen to be believed.

Ireland's shock tactics in the opening half resulted in two very fine tries and a substantial lead, but the sudden disaster to Fraser's shorts shortly before the interval, which gave the Scottish team their "second wind," was really the turning point in the game, and I believe that had the game continued instead of being suspended for several minutes. Ireland would have carried the day.

Saturday's game brought out the best in several players the most hoticeable being Sto. Warren, the Navy right-centre threequarter, and later-full-back, whose goal-kicking was a revelation. The Navy have always had to rely upon Benson for their goal- Yesterday's Results At kicking, and yet they had a perfectly good kicker in Warren standing by

H. R. McGilchrist, the Club right wing-threequarter, is definitely on the downward grade, his display on Saturday being most disappointing. Playing opposite to Hopkins, who barely reached his chest, he very rarely got off the mark properly, although several well-directed passes were sent his way.

Providing that both Bidwell and Grieve are available for next season, the Club should be able to field one of the finest back divisions seen in the Colony for many a season. With either Frost or Robertson as full-back, the probable threequarter line would be W. E. Grieve, J. Hutchison, H. D. Bidwell, and H. R. McGilchrist with A. H. R. Butcher and H. C. Meeke or J. L. Bonnar, as the half-backs!

F. J. McGugan was easily the outstanding forward on display on Saturday, but his eagerness to get to the ball first often caused an off-side infringement Lt Esmonde, the other Irish wing-forward, gave a sound display and was always ready to take his man after the packs had broken up.

The entry of a Royal Air Force team in the Blarney Stone Seven-A-Side Rugby tournament is welcomed by both the Civilians and the other Services, and it is hoped that H. M. aircraftcarrier Hermes will be sufficiently long enough in port next season in order that a fifteen may be fielded.

TYPICAL "Cup-tie" football featured the premier League soccer clash between South China "B" and St. Joseph's at Kowloon yesterday, the result being a draw, both sides scoring

Speed was the key-note throughout the game; much of the play was of the kick-and-rush variety, but there were frequent phases of methodical football, notably between Lim Tak-po, Cheuk Shek-kam and Yeung Shui-yick. On the other hand, the Saints relied mainly on Leonard to burst through on his own initiative, rather than on any defined plan; their somewhat spasmodic play won them a point, but the Chinese played by far the more attractive game.

Lim Tak-po, the South China; pivot, infused a sparkle into the side during the second half that ATHLETIC was entirely missing earlier on. Here, there and everywhere always in the thick of the fray, sending through a series of sound passes to the front line, Lim Tak-po proved his worth in no mean style. His partners in rethe intermediate line, played up ence to distribute to their best

> SAILORS' DEFENCE TOO STRONG

The Navy, playing at Causeway Bay yesterday afternoon in the Second Division, scored a smashing victory over South China, winning by nine goals to nil.

To say that the Navy team were the masters in every phase of the game is no exaggeration, and but for many smart saves by Choo Sieu-hong, the 'visitors' goalkeeper, the score might easily have reached double figures before half time.

MACKAY PLAYS BRIGHT INNINGS

JUNIORS JUST AVOID HEAVY DEFEAT

(By "L.B.W.")

THANKS to a fine bowling performance by S. V. Gittins, coupled with an excellent knock by N. A. E. Mackay, the Kowloon Cricket Club beat the Royal Navy in their First Division League encounter on Saturday by 6 wickets. Although the K.C.C. are still two points behind the Indians, with the same number of games played, they are by no means out of the running and the Indians have only to draw with the University in their last match of the season to give Kowloon the chance of a re-play, provided, of course, that Kowloon win their other match.

Frank Goodwin, the K.C.C. skipper, won the toss and decided to send the Navy in to bat on a wicket which, though good, was on the slow side. Although the sailors were not scoring at a very fast rate, the Kowloon opening bowlers found that they could do little on the slow wicket, and it was not till S. V. Gittins was given the ball that the Navy wickets began to fall, Striking a length with almost his first ball, Gittins sent down some very useful stuff and finally returned an analysis of 6 for 34. He fully deserved his wickets, and the one thing about his effort on this particular afternoon was that he made the batsmen play him all the time.

The Navy totalled 130 runs, Teddy Fincher and A. T. Lay put which was not a bad score, but on thirty odd runs for the first against a strong batting side like wicket, but the best cricket of the K.C.C. while W. L. McKenzie proved their most successful bowler. I wonder they do not promote the latter to the first eleven for, as a left-hand bowler, he would be extremely useful there, while he can be a very stubborn bat if occasion demanded.

In the other League match, of afternoon Recreio failed by four runs to beat the Engineers after they had dismissed them for a paltry 76! It was definitely a day for bowlers, A. F. Noronha (Recreio) having 5 for 24 and Hocdinot (Engineers) 5 for 26. The failure of the Recreio batsm n. however, was inexcusable for they were given a good start by W. A. Reed and A. J. Prata, who added 32 for the first wicket.

The Friendlies

The friendly matches between the Indian Recreation Club and Civil Service Cricket Club (in both divisions) were called off owing to the difficulty of getting together the teams. The Races, I presume, had something to dowith it.

Craigengower beat the University in a low-scoring match by 28 runs. It was a bowler's match with E. L. Gosano (5 for 23) and H. Ozorio (4 for 33) of the University, and A. T. Lee (4 for 20) A. B. Hamson (5 for 22) of the C.C.C. in the limelight. In the junior match, too, the University were beaten. Against some very steady bowling by A. Kitchell and G. T. Lee they only scored 36 runs, the last named getting 3 wickets for as many rung apiece each.

DOUGLAS FIRS IN CANADA

Extensive Export Trade

FAR EASTERN DEMANDS

Ottawa.-The Douglas fir at tains the largest size of any tree in Canada and, with the exception of the redwood of California, is the largest tree on the North American continent.

It has reached a height of 380 feet, and trees 15 feet in diameter have been found. A single Douglas fir has scaled as much as 60,-000 feet board measure. Specimens over 700 years old have been found, although comparatively few are found more than 400 years

All classes of Commercial Banking The range of the Douglas fir is from the east slope of the Rocky Mountains through to the coast of British Columbia and Vancouver Island, where some of the finest commercial stands are found. In Cheques" and Letters of Credit and, Alberta it grows 300 miles north in addition, the world-wide services to the head-waters of the Atha-

Structional Timber

The wood of the Douglas fir is harder heavier, stiffer and stronger than that of any other Canadian evergreen tree and produces the largest structional timber grown in Canada. It is used extensively in bridge-building, mine timbers, wharf construction and heavy framework of all kinds. It is also an excellent material for boat, scow and other marine con-

It has properties which enable to be used in the making of flooring, and when treated with creosofe, it provides a long-wear ing, noiseless and dustless pave ment for roadways.

More than a billion feet, board measure, are cut each year, much of it being shipped to distant parts of the world. Last year the export of Douglas fir planks and boards, logs and square timber, amounted to nearly 780 million feet: Much of it went to the Far East.-Reuter.

ORTUGUESE DEFENDERS FAIL IN SECOND HALF

An exciting game of hockey was witnessed yesterday when the newly formed Wanderers' eleven were defeated by the Macau Hockey Club first eleven by 5 goals to 3, after the Portuguese team had led at the interval by 4 goals to I.

The outstanding feature of the game was supplied by S. A. Fowand T. S. D. Whitley, who twice broke through the Macau! defence in the second half for the former to secure a "hat-trick" after having given the visitors the lead in the first 10 minutes of the game - no mean achievement!

Macau played very good hockey left-half and left-back were too slow in intercepting passes.

Sommer Shines

Sommer was the best-defender on the field, and in the second half was partnered by Potter, who was transferred from the intermediate line. Tremlett going to left-half.

The ground was heavy and favoured the visitors, who opened the acoring through Fowler, following a brilliant bout of passing. But thereafter Macau held sway and four goals came in quick succession.

Macau 'Keeper's Lapse

The second half saw a reversal of play and spectacular interpassing between Fowler and Whitley saw the former score his second goal after the Macau custodian had miskicked. The third goal by the Wanderers was a repetition of the second, and the Portuguese custodian should have saved. Macau scored their last just before the end.

The Wanderers were accompanied to Macau by a strong party of supporters including an impromptu band comprising J. J Ferguson, J. C. M. Grenham, W. Simpson and D. J. Nooy.

MUSSOLINI'S TEN COMMANDMENTS

No woman ever could open 1 lawsuit for breach of promise or to defend her rights, for promises made to women had no legal value. and women had no legal rights. Now, added to these, comes the thing always so frightful, so inexplicable to women - war. And the ten "commandments" by which she is to live during the war-

We are hearing war talk again. and we shall have another war-And perhaps another still, after that. But sooner or later what women feel about it will make its impression: indeed, it is making its impression now.

Fifty years ago nobody saw war for what it really is, capital protecting capital. But thanks to intelligent thought on the subject, a few people are seeing it now. Every day adds to the number of us who stir restlessly in our ageold sleep of ignorance, look at the blood-soaked earth of the old world. read of the battles, and of the little they have ever accomplished. and begin bewilderedly to frame the question: "Why?"

be paid; because otherwise Jim'd have gone to gaol; and that would have properly broken his heart. "Good morning, sir." Milly recognised Smiles. She remembered his earlier order and his liking for Worcester. She reached for a bottle of beer with a question-847, 1779, 2189, 480, 773, ing smile. 364, 82, 2742, 3270, 3415, 1639,

As before Smiles watched the kaleidoscope, his mind again filling with amazement. The bar was busier than ever; everyone, was clamouring at once this lunch-time. Smiles found his sandwiches of a better flavour even than before; and looked up to see Milly's benign approval of his appetite. But, being a student, he noticed the weary expression of her eyes in the occasional moments when the drumfire eased.

No holiday, thought Milly. Well, Jim mustn't be let think it was his fault entirely, because a tired wife had lost her opportun-HONG KONG DERBY ity of relaxation. You'd keep on smiling, because Jim was a decent bloke, and not half; and the way he's fretted' and grieved, and the way he'd come home a bit rocky and smelling of beer-120145

Something'd likely happen, the way it did in the films, though. Only on Sundays could Milly visit a cinema, after she'd given the house a decent clean-up. But in Celluloidland there was always a sort of happy ending; she'd no use for the snivelling kind where you 152449 had to cry and sniff; and surely the folks that made films must take their pattern from real life! Laughing Buddha ... 44236 Meanwhile - "Good-day, sir!" Laughing Girl ........... 138628 said Milly, and seemed to be draw-

that's your commission. there'd have been no story but for you. Don't worry; you're just getting your ten per cent." He put on his hat, and was leaving when Milly remembered. ($50 each) "Good-evening, sir!" she gasped. Nos.: 2684, 1930, 40, 2274, 1643,

Then she put her hand across her mouth and her eyes filled. She'd made a mistake! The End.

THEFT OF EXCHANGE STAMPS

Po Wing-sik, a 44-year old clerk at the Bank of China, who was first charged at the Central Magistracy before Mr. S. E. Balfour on February 8, with the theft; of one $5 bill of exchange stamp on November 17, the theft of three $10 revenue stamps on December 19. one $10 revenue stamp on December 18 and with uttering a Bill of Exchange stamp from which the cancelling stamp had been partly or wholly removed, appeared before him again to-day.

Mr. M. K. Lo appeared for the defendant and pleaded guilty to the charges. Defendant was fined an aggregate of $1.000, in default nine months hard labour.

When the case was called Sub-Inspector M. Flattery applied for a further remand, but Mr. M. K. Lo strongly objected, stating that the date for hearing had been fixed for a fortnight ago and that he had had no intimation that the Police were not ready.

PLEA FOR LENIENCY

After Mr. Lo had pleaded he asked for leniency on behalf of the defendant, saying that apart from his lapse in this case, he bore an excellent character in his firm-The matter was reported to the authorities by the Bank of China.

Defendant had been employed in the bank for 17 years and as the Bank paid a bonus every six years in lieu of vacation taken, he would be entitled to nearly $700 this year; and about 18 years' more service would entitle him to a gratituty of $7,000 together with insurance to which he and the Bank had contributed. Defendant's salary, together with centain allowances, was $187-2 month He had an aged father who died in 1935 and whose illness cost him lot of money and he also had a large family and two younger brothers.

COLONEL BECK IN BRUSSELS

General Political Discussion-

" CHINA MAIL " SPECIAL

Brussels, To-day. Belgian political circles attach considerable importance to the visit of the Polish Foreign Minister. Colonel Beck, who arrived here last evening.

The signing of the new Belgian-Polish trade pact is officially given as the reason for the voyage, but it is generally assumed that the respective statesmen will take the opportunity to discuss the general political situation as well.

In this connection it is pointed out that Belgium as well as Poland are opposed to the formaings .- Trans-Ocean Service.

LADY YARROW LIBEL CASE

Niece Bound Over For Two Years

> "AN OVER-WROUGHT STATE OF MIND"

Mrs. Maud Lindsay Winckworth, of Milton House, Milton, near Cambridge was bound over in £100 for two years at the Bailey last month, on a charge of publishing defamatory libels concerning her aunt, Lady Yarrow, widow of Sir Alfred Yarrow, the

She had pleaded guilty to the charge, and she now gave an undertaking not to repeat the libels nor to molest her relatives.

Mr. Norman Birkett, K.C., said that Lady Yarrow had most reluctantly been compelled to bring allegations.

Contrition Expressed

Counsel said that he understood Mrs. Winckworth had expressed the greatest contrition, and Lady Yarrow was anxious for the judge to bind her niece over.

POWERS FOR THE ARMY

Germany's New Riot Act

DECREE PROMULGATED

A new decree, promulgated last month above the signatures of Herr Hitler and Gen. von Blomberg, the War Minister, defines the occasions on which the armed forces are empowered to make use of their arms in times of peace. It takes the place of an unpublished Order dated March 19, 1914.

Extraordinarily wide powers are given to the forces to quell civil disturbances. It is laid down that weapons may be used "without further question" in the Tollowing circumstances:

"To Enforce Obedience" ... To repulse an attack or a threat implying immediate physical danger or risk of death, or to break down resistance.

To enforce obedience to an order to lay down arms, or, in the case of demonstrations, to disperse Against prisoners or persons under provisional arrest who atempt to escape, although warned when taken under guard or arrest that in the case of such an attempt arms would be used.

To stop persons who, despite a loud cry of "Halt!", attempt to svoil by flight compliance with legitimate orders.

.To protect persons or objects entrusted to their guard. In this case, too, the use of weapons, if circumstances permit, is to be preceded by a warning.

Warning Necessary A member of the forces may use his arms at any time to prevent interference with his duties Firearms are only to be used when fix bayonets are not enough, and should the use of firearms be necessary to disperse a demonstration a warning is previously to be given, the nature of which will be determined by the circumstances.
